

Program Summary:

This family ranch opens its doors to the beautiful surrounding landscape by maximizing views, allowing for natural lighting with natural construction materials that blend with the terrain.

Program Statement:

An ever unfolding landscape of lush meadows, limestone hills, and diverse wildlife inspired the elegant and rustic interior of this Texas cattle ranch home. The structure is sited on its property with a focus on the natural surround beauty and is designed to capture optimal views, while also functioning within to extend rural family roots and provide ideal entertaining space. The natural materials found in the landscape support the design vision for the interior with a unique timelessness that is both contemporary and classic.

The interior of the home played a huge role in the overall design with a priority of maximizing views. This project is most successful in how the exterior architecture makes its way indoors, by integrating the surrounding landscape with floor to ceiling fenestration and by using consistent materials on the interior and exterior. The result is a harmonizing effect that allows for fluid indoor to outdoor living.

The serene palette compliments the client's wishes for a comfortable and livable, entertaining space. The highly detailed interior construction of natural materials such as regionally quarried limestone and reclaimed wood give a timeless aesthetic, characterizing authenticity that will be celebrated for years to come.

IA-250.01

Building Area: (sf)
10,000 sq ft

Cost per Square Foot:
Undisclosed

Construction Cost
Undisclosed

Date of Completion:
FALL 2019

IA-250.02

Large glass windows framing sunset views.

IA-250.03

The overall plan strategically creates small moments and large moments of indoor/outdoor connection for views at every direction.

IA-250.04

Upon entering the home, initial impressions are made of grand solid wood door flanked by large columns of limestone.

IA-250.05

Reclaimed timber beams and columns both structurally and aesthetically define spaces throughout the home.

IA-250.06

A living space grand for large family gatherings but intimate for a cozy fireside morning coffee.

IA-250.07

Through the use of fluid materials, this indoor dining feels as if you are dining in the gardens.

IA-250.08

The primary bedroom color palette accentuates the serene natural landscape for a calming and restorative night sleep.

IA-250.09

Natural materials and clean lines create a seamless shower room.

IA-250.10

Construction detail not only structural but architecturally aesthetic perfecting the overall design.

IA-250.11

The outdoor kitchen sets the mood for family entertainment.

IA-250.12

A goal achieved by capturing as much of the view as possible.

IA-250.13

A setting for summer nights surrounded by the natural landscape and the natural materials creating this spectacular home.